Stewardship Reflection

July 19, 2020 - 16th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"The kingdom of heaven may be likened to a man who sowed good seed in his field...He who sows good seed is the Son of Man, the field is the world, the good seed the children of the kingdom." (Matthew 13:24, 37-38)

As children of God, we are all "good seeds." We are blessed by God with the potential to accomplish much good in the world. We fulfill God's plan when we spend time in prayer every day, use our skills to help others, and share our financial gifts to help build God's kingdom on earth. Through our example of gratitude and generosity we sow "good seeds" on earth and ultimately help each other get to Heaven!

Project Advance has some key changes this year. Archdiocesan funding priorities from this year's Appeal will be directed to a newly established Crisis Response Fund, to help vulnerable individuals and families during this time of pandemic, alongside other ministries of evangelization and outreach. The Archdiocesan goal has been reduced to $1.625 million and St. Anthony of Padua - Agassiz's target has been reduced from $9,500 to $4,750.

Thank you for your response so far! $1,425.00. We only have to raise $3,325 more to reach our assessed goal of $4,750, and the remainder stays in our parish for our own needs.

Thank you again

Refugee Fundraising Drive:

The Agassiz Refugee Committee, which includes three local churches, including our St. Anthony of Padua parish, is holding a fundraising drive. This drive is to help with the support of the two families we presently sponsor, plus another family, a Catholic family from Pakistan, who should arrive within a year or so. Pakistani Christians are arrested needlessly, and suffer great trials. Father Dennis will look after and accept the offerings in the name of the Refugee Committee. Checks should be marked, "For Refugee Program". Please include your church envelop number as well. Thank you for your kindness.

Dioceses reach out to Pakistani Christians

By Michael Swan

Catholics from coast to coast are rallying to answer a call to help resettle Christian Pakistani refugees stuck in Bangkok.

At least eight Canadian dioceses, including Vancouver, have pledged to raise money and gather volunteers to give a new Canadian home to up to 65 families eligible for resettlement.

The pledges of support come in response to a mission trip to Bangkok by the Archdiocese of Toronto Office for Refugees to vet candidates for resettlement.

That trip spurred a Catholic Register series about the community of Pakistanis in the Thai capital on the run from their country's harsh blasphemy laws.

"When their suffering is brought to (Canadian Catholics') attention, as was done through The Catholic Register, people want to respond," said Office for Refugees director Deacon Rudy Ovcjak. "You can't help but be moved by the suffering of this community — to know not only their suffering in Pakistan but their ongoing suffering in Bangkok."

As a major sponsorship agreement holder with the federal government, the Archdiocese of Toronto has pledged to sponsor 18 of the 65 verified refugee families. Toronto has also heard from refugee sponsorship officials and parishes in the dioceses of Montreal, Grouard-McLennan (northwestern Alberta), Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Halifax and Peterborough.

Ovcjak expected that number to increase following the Sept. 23-27 Canadian Conference of Catholic Bishops annual plenary meetings in Cornwall, Ont. A letter appealing for sponsorship help has gone out to every bishop in Canada from the CCCB, and Toronto Archbishop Cardinal Thomas Collins planned to address the issue with his fellow bishops.

The case for sponsoring the Pakistanis rests on their suffering, said Ovcjak. "They're hunted down by the Thai Immigration Police and placed into hugely overcrowded detention centres. And there they stay," Ovcjak said.

"Their only remedy out of that is two choices — either go back to Pakistan where the likely prospect of death awaits you, or you hope for assistance from societies in the West to resettle them. Many of them have been languishing in those detention centres for years on end."

Antoinette Godbout, refugee sponsorship co-ordinator with the Calgary Catholic Immigration Society, said her organization has pledged to sponsor three families.

"When we hear about a group that is being persecuted and also not noticed — not being recognized by other governments, by media, by in general world attention — I feel extra compassion and inspiration to reach out to those people," she said. □

Sponsorship Drive... for Refugee Program

- Three local churches, make up our local Refugee Committee. We are the
 - a. Agassiz Christian Reform Church
 - b. All Saints Anglican Church, and
 - c. St. Anthony of Padua parish
- We work under the umbrella of the Mennonite Central Committee, which holds a refugee sponsorship agreement with the federal government.
- The Committee's mandate is to help new families settle in Agassiz.
- In October of 2019 we welcomed, from Burundi, Gilbert and Amina and their 4 children.

- In December, 2019, we welcomed, from Pakistan, Melvin and Nusrat, and their three adult children.

- In about a year, we will be welcoming, also from Pakistan, a Catholic family, Parvez and Yasmin, and their 3 children. Many dioceses across Canada, including our own, are pledging to sponsor Pakistan refugees who, because of Pakistan's Blasphemy Law are treated harshly. (See attachment)

- The committee normally helps sponsor families for one year with English, schooling and job training.
- After a year of sponsorship, it is hoped that the family will be able to be self-sufficient.
